WELCOME TO JACKSON POINT HUNTING CLUB

WELCOME TO JACKSON POINT HUNTING CLUB! As you pull through the gate, you will enter an excellent Mississippi River Bottom Club made up of Mississippi and Arkansas ground. After riding through the club for a few miles, you will arrive at the camp area with roughly 50 camps, one of which is included with this offering. The 1,332± square foot cabin, constructed in the early 90s, is located on Mississippi land. The fully furnished two bedroom, and two bathroom cabin is equipped with pine walls, tile countertops, tile floors, and a real-wood-burning fireplace. Outside, the cabin has a front porch, a great place for UTVs/ATVs, a screened-in back porch, cypress siding, and a metal roof. The cabin is built on a slab on some of the highest ground inside the Mississippi River Bottom from Memphis, TN, to Louisiana. During the historic 2011 flood, the cabin took on less than one foot of water. However, the cabin was still gutted and completely renovated around 2012. The utilities include electricity, a club-shared water well, and a septic tank.

MORE ABOUT JACKSON POINT HUNTING CLUB

Jackson Point Hunting Club was formed in 1984 and has been a successful Mississippi River hunting club ever since. The club currently owns approximately 8,000± acres, including all timber rights. The makeup includes 1,811± acres in Phillips County, AR; 5,442± acres in Coahoma County, MS; and 750± acres in accretion. There are 107 total shares owned by approximately 67 members. The club enjoys a full-time caretaker (Kyle Vansickle) and a part-time wildlife biologist (Lan Wilf). When you ride the miles and miles of interior roads, you will eventually encounter most every aspect the Mississippi River Bottom has to offer: big timber, cutover, wildlife plots, Mellwood Lake frontage, and Ham Lake. The hunting and fishing are exceptional, with big deer (the biggest 170"), loads of turkeys, ducks when the timing is right, and small game.
